24 Sep - Insights from a Portfolio Owner on UK Property Investment (Part 2)

For many reasons we see recently there is an outburst of UK property demand, accompanied with pervasive sales ads, training courses and sharings on social media.

Maybe you are considering living in UK and look for your first dream house but don't know how to search and complete a good property deal.

Or you could be the first-time investor still wrestling with choice of locations, types of property and strategies, or even the holding vehicle! Even you are experienced in property investment, you maybe troubled by the financing alternatives, scaling up strategies or tedious tax planning issues.

There is no one-size-fits-all advice but some fundamental understanding of the market and techniques is essential before you embark. This Webinar is a sharing from a portfolio owner from the field on practicalities, tailored for fellow HKers, which could help you avoid fatal investment decisions or unnecessary pricey training courses.
